SOUND OFF

729-4006

Sound Off 729-4006 is your personal forum and squawk box. We broadcast your comments on most any subject. To sound your voice, please call 729-4006 after 5 p.m. on weekdays and anytime over the weekend. Or leave a message at our new website at www.micomnews.com. A word to the wise: you must not speak ill of your fellow citizens. Be brief. Be interesting. Otherwise we may edit you.

Election showed that good government won in Westland

Well, I guess we all got a good lesson in civics on election day: David Cox got elected handily despite Jim Davis's predictions and some anti-administration groups' efforts.

It turns out that citizens vote people in; they don't vote them out. Each ballot only had a spot to vote for the candidates you wanted to represent you. There were no spaces set aside for voters to vote against anyone. Good government wins again!

With obsolete speed limits, whole town is a speed trap

This whole town, which I happen to like very much, is a speed trap. The only exception is Wayne Rd., where you're lucky to get up to the posted speed.

Who sets the speed limits around here, an oxcart builder?

Somebody is making a lot of money from the collection of fines resulting from speeding violations that have been obsolete for at least 50 years.

Caller says Dorothy Smith is a 'professional naysayer'

This is in response to the person who called in to say that they never heard Dorothy Smith interrupting council meetings. Apparently they never have attended a council meeting or watched on television.

Dorothy Smith carries on a constant dialog, grumbling about everything, sometimes speaking to the air! She heckles, speaks out of order, and provides constant disruption.

Citizens and the council members try to ignore her as she rudely inserts her opinion into everything that's being discussed. People are afraid to tell her to shut up because she apparently plays the disabled card to the maximum. She has a whole fleet of servants who take turns handing her the microphone and assisting her each time she moves.

Dorothy Smith is a professional naysayer who uses government to make herself known.

Students collect blankets

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Barth Elementary School students in Romulus joined in twin Make A Difference Day projects aiding both the American Red Cross and victims of Epidermolysis Bullosa.

Teachers Rob Baty and Becky Montroy organized the students' efforts to collect blankets and sheets for the Red Cross's homeless effort as well as an effort to collect cans or bottles for the Epidermolysis Bullosa victims.

The students collected 76 blankets and sheets, since the Red Cross is worried about Y2K problems that could develop in coming months - particularly during the holiday period.

In addition to collecting cans and bottles, the students effort was also to make the public more aware of what Epidermolysis Bullosa (a painful skin disease that currently lasts a lifetime) actually is and how it affects its victims.

Second grade teacher Becky Montroy also recently was interviewed on radio and was able to explain the disease and generate support for the fund raising campaign.

Many fifth and sixth grade students helped make posters and flyers publicizing the Make A Difference Day projects in advance of the events.

Fifth graders who aided in the projects included Chris Baker, Rusty Harris, Leslie Hayes, Dean Kovacs, Amanda Kreutzer and Ann Marie Martin.

Sixth graders included: Ronald Baker, Megan Bearman, Jennifer Caloia, Ben DeFelice, Katrell Duncan, Amanda Hollis, Brian Rak, Anisa Rakic, Patricia Silvey and Jeremy Trevorow.

People in the news...

Joyce Turner, a records clerk with the Inkster Police Department, won $600 recently on the Michigan Lottery's Road to Riches TV program.

Turner, 50, said her co-workers informed her that she had been chosen to appear on the Saturday TV show.

She plans to use her winnings to help pay off some of her bills and to help her family.

Turner, a mother of four and grandmother of one, revealed she enjoys Stephen King books and movies, knitting mittens and sweaters and crocheting afghans and gloves in her spare time.

This Saturday two Belleville residents, Tina Covington and Michael Jewell, will appear on the lottery show on Channel 4 (WDIV-TV).

George Mitchell, former U.S. senator and author of the book Making Peace, will speak at 8 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Westin Hotel in Southfield.

Mitchell originally was to speak last month, but his talk has been delayed because of the on-going peace negotiations in Northern Ireland.

Mitchell served as senator from 1980 to 1994 and for six years was voted the "most respected member" of the Senate.

Admission to the lecture costs $10 and for the afterglow and lecture $35.

The lecture is being sponsored by the Cranbrook Peace Foundation.

For more information call 313-563-4014.

Cindy Gontho of Canton will be playing the part of a cook (who is mistaken as a mistress) in the Players Guild of Dearborn's rendition of Don't Dress for Dinner.

The comedic farce opens tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the theatre located at 21730 Madison St. (off Monroe Street and adjacent to Outer Drive) in Dearborn.

Tickets cost $11. Other evening shows will be offered on Nov. 13, 19, 20, 26 and 27. A Sunday matinee is planned at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 21.

For reservations call 313-561-TKTS.

Navy Airman Ray C. Horton, son of James C. Horton of Canton, recently visited Jebel Ali, United Arab Emirates, while on a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific Ocean, Indian Ocean and Arabian Gulf aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

Employing a "Don't Think, Just React" attitude, sailors aboard the ship saved the life of a man pinned beneath an overturned truck.

While the man was admitted to the hospital in critical condition, latest reports say he is expected to make a full recovery.

Horton is a 1997 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School. He joined the U.S. Navy in June 1997.

Five members of the Westland Convalescent Center were honored recently by being nominated for the Operation Able luncheon program.

The event was hosted by Carmen Harlan of WDIV-TV and featured mature workers, who have successfully maintained quality work ethics for many years.

The nominees, their job titles and home towns are: Grace Barranco of Canton, who serves as a clinical nurse technician; Pamela Behnke of Westland, who serves as a nurse; Sarah Belcastro of Westland, who serves as a housekeeper; Shirley Deneau also of Westland, who also serves as a housekeeper; and Betty Pierrard of Livonia, who also serves as an activities director.

Dennis Rodzik has been named as the new account manager for the Eagle-Picher Automotive's Wolverine Gasket Division in Inkster.

Rodzik - who has 24 years of sales experience - takes over the responsibility of over 70 accounts in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Prior to his appointment, Rodzik worked as regional account manager and regional sales manager for Waldes/Industrial Retaining Rings in Detroit.

Beverly A. Hunt-Sherrod of Lansing was recently crowned Ms. Senior Michigan at the Macomb Center for Performing Arts.

Taxpayers urged to protest the Metropark deer kill

I'm calling to voice my opinion and also to inform the public, especially the taxpayers who pay a millage that goes to the Huron Clinton Metro Tax Authority to voice your opinion, go down to their headquarters in downtown Detroit protesting this deer killing.

Do you know the facts of this deer kill?

On Nov. 5, there were several deer killed. One deer had three legs. These deers are being killed from tree stands and they're also being baited.

The people killing the deers aren't allowed to keep the carcasses. These people are sick. This society is sick. One thing leads to the next.

CITY OF ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL PUBLIC HEARING

Please be advised, that the City of Romulus City Council has scheduled a Public Hearing to be held Monday, December 6, 1999 at 7:00 p.m. Prevailing Eastern Time in the Romulus City Hall Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174-1485. The purpose of the meeting is to hear comments on the proposed special assessment district for the lighting of Sidney Road between Wayne and Grant Roads.

All interested citizens are encouraged to attend and will be given an opportunity to comment on said request. Written comments may be submitted until 12:00 noon, Monday, December 6, 1999 and should be addressed to Linda R. Choate, Clerk, City of Romulus, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174-1485 [phone (734) 942-7540].

Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk
City of Romulus, Michigan

Publish: November 11, 1999

THIS IS AN OPEN MEETING

Taxpayers, protest. You pay with your taxes and you also pay when you go into the park. Let them know.

Caller says Wayne's Aquatic Center is swimming in red ink

This is a concerned citizen of Wayne who has lived here 30 years.

I'd like to rebut the article about Shirley Powser. Shirley Powser is concerned about the citizens of Wayne.

Mr. Warfield, when he sent out his letter, didn't tell people that we're losing over $2 million on the swimming pool when one of the candidates suggested selling it.

Can we afford to lose $2 million on the swimming center -- that's a lot of money. The citizens ought to have an accounts payable in the city .... You can get them in Belleville and Westland.

Wake up citizens, our money is going down the drain. We don't want our money wasted on things like unnecessary cell phones. People are too lazy to go to pay phones? ... This is silly.

Nancy Pride could win caller's vote with taped mouth

I'm commenting on Nancy Pride, who I recently saw marching in front of city hall with an American flag.

I just want to say I wasn't considering voting for you, but promise I will if you promise keep a tape on your mouth for the whole term.

End citizens' 'grand-standing' at beginning of council meetings

Westland City Council has to do something about all the show-boating and grandstanding which takes places during the citizens' comments portion of the meeting.

Every idiot with a cause and every self-serving person in the city comes there to grab their 15 minutes of fame every meeting while good citizens sit patiently waiting for the business meeting to start.

How about putting the citizens' comments to the end of the meeting so that business can be conducted. Citizens would still have their opportunity to speak to any item on the agenda, and the publicity seekers could talk all night long, if they wanted to, at the end of the meeting. That way the good hard-working citizens could go home to their families.

This is what they do on C-SPAN. The speakers go on all night long and their is no audience. If you want to listen to them, you can turn on the TV.

Alleged gambling city employees should hand over winnings

Thirteen city employees have for 16 years conducted their gambling purchases, news interviews, photo shoots, etc. at the taxpayers' expense.

At Meek

Pupils' science fair attracts parents

By MAUDE REID
MCN Special Writer

Students and their parents at Meek Elementary School spent a night discussing math and science and discovered that the laws of science are not written in concrete or are dogmatic, but change as man gains knowledge of the universe.

For the second year, pupils, parents and teachers focused on solving math problems as they raised a wide range of questions and sought answers.

Louise Edje, one of the teachers involved in the project, said that the evening was a great success because everyone appeared to be having fun while asking pertinent and relevant questions.

Mary Moss, the principal at the school, encourages such programs that involve exchanges parents along with their children.

The school auditorium also was filled with tables, with student science projects on display. Each pupil was charged with explaining their project. Standing alongside was a just-in-case adult supervisor. Under the category of mathematics, the project list included: M & M Graphing, Gummy Bear Graphing, general math, story telling, dominoes, and math in music.

Among the science projects was a closer look at the world of spiders, also games such as Inverted Tumbler, Gimmie Five, Two Compounds, Gears, Raindrops, Rainbow Magic.

One of the most interesting projects that attracted much attention was a huge, black bat cave created by the students.

ate guest speakers.

Parent conferences were conducted during the Fall and Spring seasons and more than 80 percent of parents attended, and that is an outstanding turnout as any school administrator will inform you.

The Special Needs Program is based upon the philosophy that Special Needs Students can best be educated in the regular classroom and teachers in cooperation with the special needs staff accept the responsibility for all students in their classroom.

Wayne County RESA has been encouraging and resourceful concerning the new program and the school will continue to progress in order to build an outstanding special needs program.

A mastery reading plan is now in place. The program was explained by specialists who discussed the information with workshop participants. Subject matter covered reading strategies innovative and theoretic.

Professionals unveil job market to Inkster students

By MAUDE REID
MCN Special Writer

Students in Inkster schools got a rare and exciting opportunity to get a glimpse of the jobs of the future.

Lifting the shades to the window and allowing the children to peek at what kinds of jobs are presently available and what skills will be needed to fill those positions of the future were 25 presenters who represented the fields of engineering, nursing, cable TV, the Armed Forces, law and legal consultants, health care, U. S.

Customs, AAA Auto, construction, the FBI, who, accompanied by trained dogs, put on a demonstration on how trained canines can sniff out illegal drugs.

All, and others, were represented at the Eighth Annual Inkster Career Day, sponsored by DAZ - three local sororities, made up of sorority members from the Deltas, AKA's, and ZETAS.

There also was time for entertainment and good food. Treva Smith addressed the gathering and discussed the Career Day, while the Inkster Middle Choir, directed by the very talented David Williams, performed. Also, Shavonne Carrodon introduced Minister Terrance McClain, one of many guest speakers, from Annapolis Park Church of Christ.

Members of the middle school's dance class, directed by Dorothy McClendon, presented an exciting variety of dances, while Lamont Parker gave the acknowledgements.

The Parent Communication Network of Thomas-Gist Academy North of Rosewood Street is the catalyst for a successful, active, supportive group at the school.

The group is directed by Pamela Moon.

The group also provides funds for field trips, classroom equipment and instructional materials. They also assist the Academy by finding appropriate guest speakers.

Facts, figures of a day care director

By MAUDE REID
MCN Special Writer

There are some fascinating facts and figures about the very successful Barbara J. Leatherwood, the director of Jari-Chas Day Care Center.

The center is located on Inkster Road.

The oldest of nine brothers and sisters, Leatherwood is a graduate of Inkster High School. Upon graduating, she went on to Paine College in Augusta, Georgia where she majored in sociology and psychology.

Leatherwood's experiences are many, and for 30 years she worked for the U. S. Army and the American Red Cross which helped her develop an Outreach Program for family members of the Armed Forces.

The Army apparently liked what they saw in the Leatherwood program that they drafted it as a model for its world-wide programs.

Married to Matthew, Sr., a noncommissioned officer who has served in the Army for 30 years, Barbara and Matthew have three sons: Malcolm, also retired from the military; Matthew, Jr., who is with the U. S. Marine Corp, and Jason, an occupational therapist presently employed by Delta Airlines.

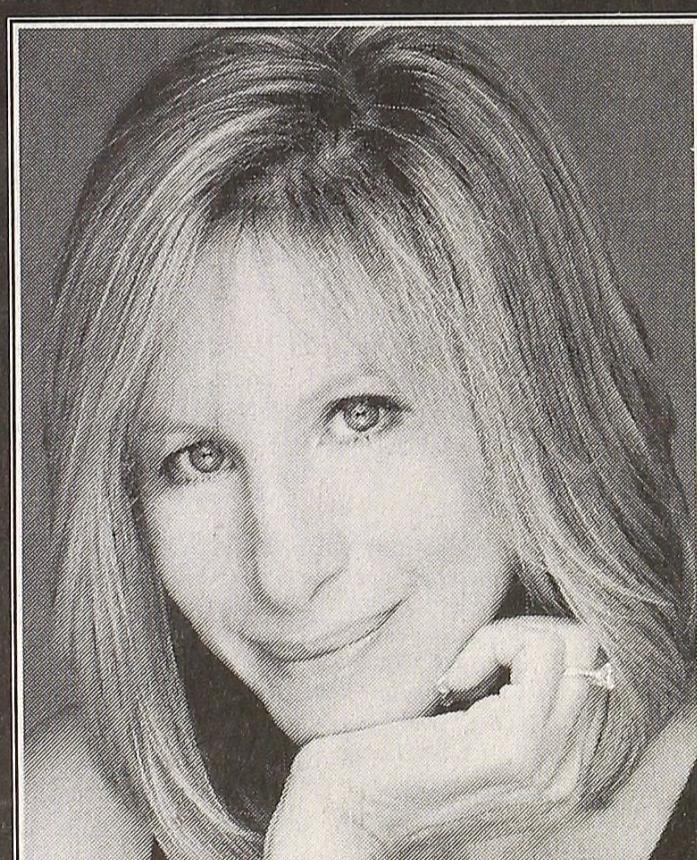

Leatherwood's father was a prominent minister whose name is engraved upon one of the city street in Inkster. She also has three brothers who are very successful bishops and one of them, Bishop Wayne T. Jackson, is seen frequently on Black Entertainment and has appeared on other television stations.

Of Leatherwood's five sisters, four of them are successful entrepreneurs.

Her experiences are summed up in one sentence: Love - for family, country and humanity.

Election results tell us voters think reps doing good job

In analyzing Tuesday's general election, with the exception of the Inkster mayoral race, voters chose to stick with the tried and true rather than giving challengers a chance.

This was the case in Westland and Wayne, where incumbents swept to victory.

On the other hand, voters in the city of Inkster gave the nod to Councilman Hilliard Hampton as they voted overwhelmingly (would you believe 2300 to 700?) to install a new mayor.

I find that margin of victory astounding. Mayor Edward Bivens has served his city well for two terms. He reigned tall during the city's first significant commercial and residential growth in decades, campaigned hard to rid the city of the Melody Theatre, and has been instrumental in trying to make Inkster Public Schools fiscally sound.

Even though the position of mayor is essentially part-time, Mayor Bivens was full-time in every respect. If he wasn't at city hall, he was at a meeting. For all intents and purposes, he was a good mayor, well respected by colleagues and voters. Or so we thought.

Although we expected Hampton to win, no one visualized a greater than 3 to 1 margin of victory. Voters clearly wanted a change - a new agenda and a new representative at the helm. If a change was necessary, Hampton certainly is a great choice.

An outspoken Inkster advocate, Hampton will lead the city admirably in the new millennium.

Due to a variety of reasons, the new Inkster city council will have several new faces. Expect Marcus Hendricks to be an able representative as he replaces the retiring James Collier. Hampton's vacated seat was won by DeArtis Richardson in a close race over Danny Williams.

And Janet Bostedor, unchallenged in neither the primary nor general election, will take a new seat on the council.

That's three brand new council representatives and a new mayor that will join veteran council persons Naomi James, Ernest Hendricks and Wanda Foster-Harris. Citizens can expect many changes once the new council is seated.

That is not the case in Wayne. The four dissident candidates failed to gain a seat. In fact, they did not even come close. Incumbents Robert Dickerson, Josephine Lentine and Donna McEachern, and newcomer Beverly Shackelford swept to victory despite a mostly negative campaign waged by many of the challengers.

Apparently Wayne voters are happy with the way council is running their city. If ever there was an opportunity for change, this was it. Wayne voters declined.

Ditto Westland. A significant minority of this city's voters complain vocally about Mayor Robert Thomas, his friends on city council, and the city administration.

But when it comes time to be counted at the polls, Mayor Thomas and incumbent council people usually have their way. Incumbent council persons Trav Griffin, Glenn Anderson, and David Cox were victorious.

So was their campaign partner, David James.

Their margin of victory wasn't quite the same as the mayor's last contest, but each tallied enough votes to win comfortably.

The other Western Wayne election was in the city of Belleville. No surprises were in store here as incumbent mayor Tom Fielder, and incumbent council persons Rosemary Loria, William Cremcan, and unopposed newcomer Bill Emerson all won easily.

The voters have spoken, and with the exception of Inkster, have indicated they are pleased with the status quo.

That means next time we run in to our elected representative, we need to give him or her a pat on the back, because our peers have told us he or she is doing a mighty fine job.

Veterans Day reflects common bonds

By Alan G. Lance, Sr.

What is it about America's veterans that brings us together on Veterans Day? Are we living in the past - attempting to capture a fleeting moment in time that has long since past? Certainly not!

What brings veterans together for Veterans Day is a bond formed in uniform. It is the bond that is entwined within our hearts and minds, which is simply stated: I shall not fail those with whom I serve.

It has been more than a quarter century since the guns fell silent in Vietnam. Longer still for Korea and nearly a lifetime for World War II. Yet, that bond of military service - which transcends the years - compels us to come together and keep the faith with those with whom we served.

This final Veterans Day of the 20th century will include observances with the youngest generations of veterans, the men and women of the Persian Gulf War. These are Americans who sacrificed for others. These are Americans who continue to serve us in uniform. These are Americans who will gather on many more Veterans Days because they also feel that common bond.

As young American military members spend this day deployed to Kosovo, Bosnia, Iraq, at-sea and in distant remote locations, it is appropriate for all of us as a nation to take the time to say "thank you."

Ironically, this Veterans Day comes on the heels of a disclosure by the Pentagon that a drug given our troops might cause Gulf War Illness. It is tragic that it took nearly a decade to make this discovery. Without a common bond between veterans, compelling them to keep the pressure on our government, there would have been no studies. It is this common bond that compels us to continue to struggle to find answers for what is right and demand that our nation provide a strong veterans health care system for those who gave so much when called upon. As veterans we have kept our bond of service to our nation. As veterans we ask that our government keep faith with us.

That is why we gather on this Veterans Day. That is why all Americans should gather with veterans this day. For America's veterans are a special group of men and women - bonded through service, committed to the future.

Alan G. Lance, Sr. is director of the American Legion

Business donations help students

By State Senator Loren Bennett
(R-Canton)

As Michigan schools work to improve educational opportunities and the learning environment for our children, they continue to search for new ways to provide incentives for businesses to participate in the educational process.

Few incentives elicit more support and participation among business owners than a sensible tax break. With that notion in mind, I have sponsored a measure offering businesses the opportunity to reduce their Single Business Tax burden while assisting public schools and public school districts in providing the best education possible for Michigan's schoolchildren.

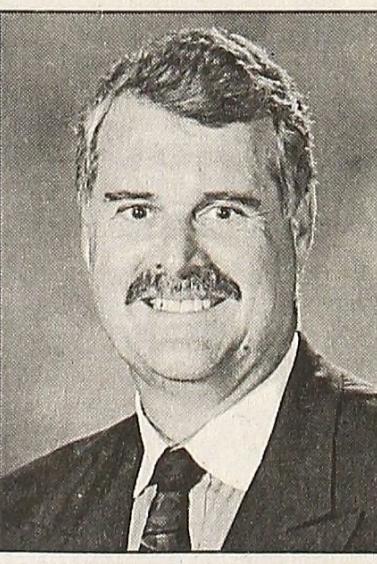

Senate Bill 540, currently before the Senate Finance Committee, allows businesses to deduct from the Single Business Tax the amount of cash donations or the fair market value of goods or services donated to public schools and public school districts.

Under this measure, an accountant could provide valuable consultation or tax services and deduct it from his or her Single Business Tax while enabling local schools to utilize the cost savings to provide better educational services.

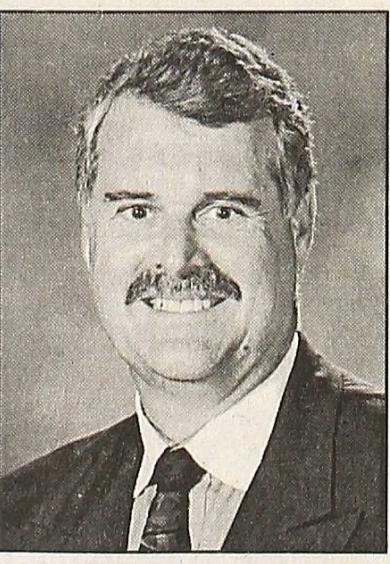

A business also could donate computer equipment, perhaps equipment that is obsolete for cutting edge business techniques but that remain perfectly useful for teaching word processing or keyboarding skills. The business owner would deduct from the Single Business Tax the amount of the equipment's fair market value that wasn't deducted from the business's federal taxes.

Offering additional tax incentives for business owners to increase their philanthropy with local public schools enables Michigan's poorer school districts to improve educational services without forcing voters to approve millage requests or schools to cut programs. In other words, everyone wins.

Treat high school students like adults

In the end, the siting of the third Plymouth-Canton high school worked out well.

Board President Sue Davis and Trustee Darwin Watts proved flexible enough to admit a mistake when faced with the economics of their original plan.

Previously the cash-strapped board had unnecessarily sited the school on the high school campus beyond walking distance, a placement that would have required shuttle buses rigged out to transport disabled students at a cost of $400,000 a year. The unnecessary cost would have put the district into the red for years, yet contributed nothing.

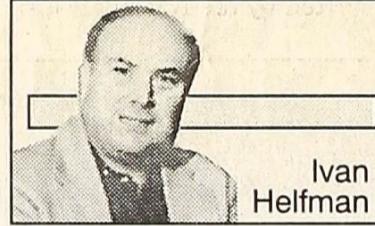

The purpose of siting the schools far apart was to restrict movement between the schools. Somehow the majority of the board didn't realize that their plan didn't restrict movement, just made it motorized and hopelessly expensive.

Restricting movement between the buildings would have to be accomplished in either case by rescheduling classes to keep students in one building and directing the security staff to keep kids in their buildings.

Buses have nothing to do with this.

Thank goodness that five school board members finally figured this out.

Perhaps this display of common sense will be followed by an honest appraisal of the high school. If one is made, board members may realize that the problem with the district are not the high schools, which seem too scary for some board members.

The high schools offer a great variety of classes for all needs in a safe atmosphere. Serious students can pursue most studies and find challenging classes.

But this is not enough for some school board members, who rather than take the time to evaluate what the high schools have to offer, reject the high school because it's not run according to some board members' trendy theories, especially the theory that a smaller, "more intimate" school would be better.

Supposedly the intimate atmosphere is needed to succor many students, though a remarkable number of students are filled with school spirit, have a sense of belonging, and are as well adjusted as teenagers can be expected.

Based on students I have talked to, students who have spoken at board meetings, and articles written last year by our student reporter, I doubt whether there are many students needing hand holding and what Davis, a social worker used to dealing with delinquents, calls "intervention."

But I think that the problem is with the adults, not the teenagers.

While I haven't the space here to explain myself thoroughly, I recommend that school board members and parents of high school students read Thomas Hine's book, "The Rise and Fall of the American Teenager."

His original point is that teenagers ought to be treated like they were before World War II: as "beginner" adults. This would mean giving teen-agers real responsibilities and real jobs.

Because we don't, Hine says that we have condemned adolescents to a long period of irrelevance, shielding them from the real business of life.

This wasn't always the case, Hine shows in his historical sketches of teenagers in, for instance, FDR's Civilian Conservation Corps, when adults let adolescents be independent and gave them a real role in the economy.

While our technological economy can no longer provide enough real jobs for teenagers, we can treat them more like adults than babies who need to be manipulated with "interventions" and psychobabble.

The trick will be finding ways to once again include them in our social, economic and political lives, not treating them like a bothersome problem and shunting them aside where they rebel against their present treatment.

Communities can save lives by approving AEDs

To the Editor:

Imagine you are suddenly among the thousands of Michigan citizens who suffer sudden cardiac arrest in public every year. It might occur at a golf course, an airport, an arena or other public buildings. You've been administered CPR, but your life still hangs in the balance. A small medical device, about the size of a tool kit, called an automated external defibrillator (AED) is raced out to you. Someone opens it, and a voice from the machine begins to provide the simple instructions to activate the AED with the hope that it will restart your heart. What's to stop one of these potential heroes from following those instructions and saving your life? The answer now is: nothing.

The American Heart Association has proven that survival from sudden cardiac arrest is directly linked to time to defibrillation. The sooner a heart can be restarted, the better the chances are for recovery, but chances are reduced by 7-10 percent with every minute of delay. In the past few years, AEDs have become reasonably priced and extremely easy to use. The only significant barrier to wider distribution has been the fear of lawsuits by those who either attempted to use the device or merely provide it.

Thankfully, last week the Michigan Senate passed HB 4420, sponsored by Representative Gerald Law (Plymouth), which provides the much needed immunity for "Good Samaritans" who use automated external defibrillators. The bill also provides immunity for physicians who authorize the use of an AED, individuals who instruct others in the use of an AED and the individual or entity that owns or operates the premises where an AED is located or used.

Although AEDs need not be as prevalent as fire extinguishers, I would encourage you to find out if your workplace, shopping area, and local police have one at hand. Now that Michigan's legislature is clearing the way for true heroes to act without fear or penalty, it is up to our individual communities to ensure that in the event of your heart attack (or mine) that these life saving devices are available to do the job.

Sincerely,
Frank Borovsky
Chairman of the Board of Directors
American Heart Association

Romulus cop advocates zero tolerance for unbuckled kids

To the Editor:

One of the worst calls faced by police officers, fire fighters and emergency medical technician's is a traffic crash involving unbuckled children. They will never be able to wipe from their memory the first time they arrive at the scene of a crash where the victim has been an unbuckled child. What had seemed like a small oversight to the parent - not buckling up the kids - had become the most devastating mistake of their life.

Every day children are needlessly injured or killed on our state's roadways for the very same reason - an adult to buckle them up. Traffic crashes are the leading cause of death to children in America.

That is why the Romulus Police Department is joining hundreds of agencies across the state in the next Click it. Don't Risk it campaign enforcement wave. The campaign is supported by the National Operation ABC Mobilization: America Buckles Up Children. Over the Thanksgiving holiday week, November 22-28th officers will be looking for and ticketing Deadbeat Drivers - adults who - despite the widespread attention to child passenger safety - fail to take responsibility for protecting children by buckling them up.

To build on our progress, it's time that the community joins law enforcement in declaring zero tolerance for unbuckled children. It will take the collective outrage of all of us to reach the Deadbeat Drivers who don't take the extra moment to make sure their child passengers are protected. No one should look the other way when they see a child at risk. Every citizen must make sure that their friends and relatives understand that letting a child ride unbuckled - no matter how short the ride - is always life threatening and never worth the risk.

We can no longer tolerate children being injured or killed because adults fail to buckle them in.

Eric D. Painter
Executive Lieutenant
Romulus Police Department

Place our Social Security Trust Fund into a trust!

To the Editor:

Most people correctly believe that Social Security has been our most successful social program, however, as the program has matured it faces many obstacles to its viability. The first major crisis it faced was in 1981 when concerns were raised about the Trust Fund running out of money by 1983. The Greenspan Commission was formed which made recommendations to resolve the short-term financing problems the program faced. A combination of legislation enacting the recommendations, low inflation and the economic boom has contributed to yearly Trust Fund surpluses until the proclaimed total is now in excess of $650 billion.

Unfortunately within the Treasury, Social Security taxes are co-mingled with general tax revenues, which allows Congress to spend Trust Fund surpluses to fund other expenses within the budget. For example, the 1998 $70 billion surplus existed only because Congress included the 1998 $99 billion surplus when the actual budget showed a deficit. To cover up the embezzlement of Trust Fund money by Congress, the Department of Treasury has been forced to issue non-negotiable IOU bonds to the Trust Fund.

In order to prevent further violations, the Trust Fund must be removed from control of the politicians and made into an autonomous agency, like the Federal Reserve, having a charter to collect, invest and distribute the trust money in a prudent manner. Allow me to propose that the new agency be called the United States Social Security Trust.

Sincerely,
Robert A. Dahlquist

Wayne needs a new fire station like other communities have

To the Editor:

I had the pleasure of attending the October 30 open house for the new Redford Twp. Fire Station. This station is a 21st century, state-of-the-art facility, as is the new Canton Twp. station, Dearborn Heights and soon to be built Westland unit.

As a 54-year resident of Wayne, I am concerned as to the priorities of my fellow citizens. We have a new pool, library, senior center, upgraded community center and downtown development authority

Business forum slated by Metro Airport group

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A half-day business education outreach forum is slated for 8 a.m. Nov. 18 by the Wayne County Department of Airports.

The focus of the forum is to give owners of construction firms – including those with minority ownership – and who are and want to be certified as a Disadvantaged Business Enterprise an opportunity to learn more about doing business at Detroit Metro Airport.

The event is free of charge and open to construction business owners.

The forum is entitled "Building a Runway of Opportunities for Disadvantaged Business Enterprises."

Attendees will be given information on specific projects for the airport's capital improvement and residential sound insulation programs including the Midfield Terminal.

In addition there will be information about financing, bonding and joint venture relationships.

The forum is slated to be held at the Hotel Ponchartrain, 2 Washington Blvd. in Detroit and expected to continue until about noon that day.

Church growth being planned

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A total of more than $24,260 has been collected in preparation for the $730,600 planned expansion program at the Community United Methodist Church of Romulus.

Slated to be added to the church are a new kitchen area, numerous additional classrooms, nursery, gathering area, choir room, 18 additional parking places in the parking lot and other indoor renovations including air conditioning.

The expansion will reportedly add 5,600 square feet to the existing church site, located across the street from the Romulus Police Station at Bibbins and Olive streets.

Vision 2000 Building Committee Chairman LeRoy Sims said fundraisers to date have included two roast beef dinners, a talent night, pumpkin pie sales at the Pumpkin Festival, a rummage sale, loose chain collection each Sunday and sending letters to local businesses and church members asking for gifts.

In addition a large glass style "giving tree" has been erected in the entrance way of the church, listing names of $500 or more donors.

The fund drive is expected to continue through the year 2000 or more.

For more information call the church office at 734-941-0736.

The annual bazaar and chicken salad luncheon will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 12 (tomorrow) at the Community United Methodist Church of Romulus.

The popular luncheon sitting will take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. with lunch tickets costing $7.

A craft sale of Christmas style gifts and baked goods also will take place.

For more information call the church at 734-941-0736.

A Christian men's prayer breakfast is now being conducted at 7 a.m. each Monday at Leon's Restaurant, 8787 Telegraph Road in Taylor (north of Wick Road).

Army councils to be rechartered

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Salvation Army Advisory Councils — called by many the backbone of the Adult Rehabilitation Centers — will be rechartered in mid-2000.

Retired Lt. Col. Harry Smith visited the Romulus Salvation

Army ARC recently and outlined the history of the ARC program to various leaders of area ARC programs.

Local Commander Major Brian Merritt said apparently the only change the local ARC council will have to make next year is to set up three year terms for the local council members.

Smith reminded council members and leaders from the Flint, Pontiac and Detroit ARCs that the Army is now active again in more than 100 countries around the world — particularly since the fall of the Iron Curtain.

The ARCs are the units operated by the Army that help those afflicted with drug and alcohol problems.

The only funding these units get are money raised by Salvation Army Thrift Stores.

One big reason why Monroe Jefferson failed to get a first down in the second half was the efforts of Charles Mosby (72) and his brother, Myron, who shut down the Jefferson offense in the final two quarters. ## Romulus rally falls short

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The odds were stacked up against Romulus.

First, coach Mark Woodson's spot host, Monroe Jefferson, 20 points Friday night in the first half of their district playoff championship game.

Then, Romulus had what would have been the decisive touchdown nullified because of "an illegal receiver down field," and for the icing on the cake, there was a "holding penalty" called on their quarterback after he picked up the first down.

It all added up to disaster for the Eagles, who Friday night were eliminated from the playoffs and lost the district title to Monroe Jefferson, 36-34.

"Yes, I'm disappointed," said Woodson, after what had to be his most emotional setback in the past five years of coaching. "I am a no-excuse kind of coach, but I felt that there were some really controversial calls that, unfortunately, were all against us.

"But there is nothing we can do about that."

Woodson added that his "kids have nothing to be ashamed of. We had an outstanding season and our 8-3 record and a league championship are credit to the effort these kids and our staff put in. I am proud of them and our school and fans also should be."

The controversial Romulus TD, nullified because of the infraction, occurred in the third quarter. Quarterback Dave Moomaw had fired a 35-yard pass to wide receiver Michael Woods, and Woods finished off the 62-yard TD pass-run play.

The six-points came off of the scoreboard because of an illegal receiver downfield.

But the Eagles have no one to blame but themselves. They dug themselves into a deep hole in the first half, but they almost managed to claw their way out.

Moomaw engineered a 70-yard drive that culminated in Charlie Thompson's one-yard touchdown plunge in the first quarter. Romulus opted for the two-point conversion failed.

With the score 7-6 Jefferson, the host struck again and made it a 14-6 ball game when senior Romulus running back Jarvis Jordan scored his first of two TDs. The initial one was an off-tackle slant which went for 44 yards.

But that was all of Romulus's scoring in the first half.

Monroe Jefferson exploded for 20 unanswered points to take what appeared to be a commanding lead at the half (36-12).

Whatever Woodson told his players at halftime should be written down and sold or franchised on how to inspire a team: Romulus came back in the second half and shut down Jefferson's offense and scored 22 points to come within a field goal of victory.

Jordan scored his second of the evening on a 17-yarder, again off-tackle, that polished off a 66-yard drive and Moomaw teamed up with Mike Woods for the conversion and this time they got the two points. Down 36-20 early in the fourth quarter, the Eagles flew back with a pair of TDs in the final frame of their season.

Moomaw and Jordan teamed up on an out-of-the-backfield pass which the senior tailback turned into a 30-yard touchdown run.

Despite failure to convert on the two pointer, Romulus had the momentum and was back in the game.

Jefferson, stymied by a revitalized Romulus defense, was unable to advance the ball and gave it up via a punt with less than five minutes remaining.

Moomaw again called upon his line and running backs for yet another drive that this time covered 58 yards and ended with a QB sneak for the touchdown.

Glenn shocks Henry Ford, 27-23

Freshman QB, defense 'superb'

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It is one victory a pugnacious John Glenn refused to allow to slip from its fists.

And probably will never forget.

Coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets had battled too hard, too long to allow state-ranked, previously undefeated Detroit Henry Ford, to steal a district football championship.

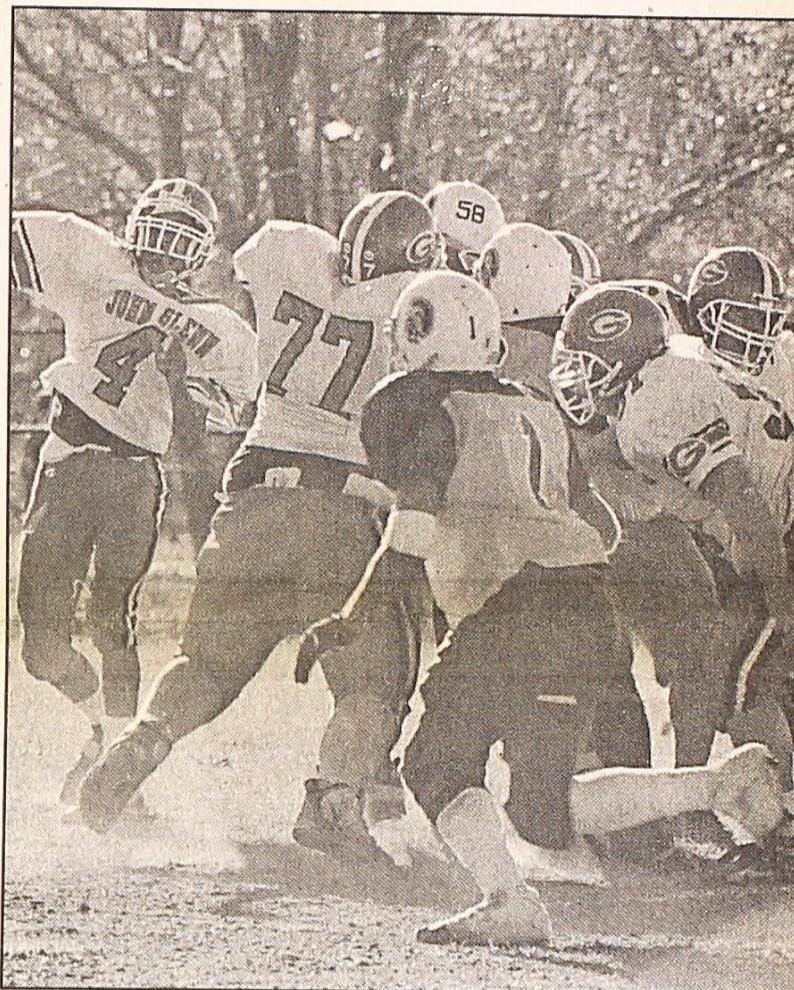

The born-again Glenn, striking quickly on Saturday to built up a 21-point advantage in the first half, managed to hold on after Henry Ford came back with a crushing second-half assault that almost turned the game around.

With less than four minutes left, and trailing 23-21, Glenn's Dan Smitherman recovered a punt fumble that revitalized the Rockets and set the Glenn offense in motion for its big push.

Glenn freshman quarterback Brian Cechiewicz blended five plays together that moved the Rockets to the nine where, on the sixth-play of the decisive series, he handed off to senior running back Eric Jones who crashed through the Ford defenses and scored the winning touchdown in a nailbiting, 27-23, thriller before 2,000 fans at the Detroit high school team's stadium.

The Glenn victory, its eighth in 11 starts this year, qualified the Rockets for the Division 1, Region 2 championship which is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday against the reigning and undefeated Western Lakes Conference champ, Walled Lake Western.

Glenn will host the regional final. (See related story.)

Looking more like a seasoned veteran, Glenn quarterback Brian Cechiewicz (4) stood out against the previously undefeated Henry Ford team. Photo by Brown's Special Events Service

The beginning was perfect for visiting Glenn who took on a highly-heralded Henry Ford team that had a perfect 10-0 record before meeting up with Glenn.

The Rockets scored 21 unanswered points and had to be thinking at this time that they were playing the wrong high school. How else could they score, almost at will?

But Glenn would learn just how tough Ford can be.

With 1:54 on the clock, Glenn tight end Ben Harris grabbed a 25-yard pass from Cechiewicz, which resulted in the Rockets' first touchdown. Jeremy Catarino proceeded to kick his first of three point-afters.

Early in the second period, at 8:48 to be exact, Nick Padlock blocked a Ford punt that teammate Chad Sansom recovered in the Ford end zone and that made it a 14-0 (after Catarino's PAT, of course) game.

Less than three minutes later, Jones tallied his first touchdown - a 26-yard, end-around race to the finish line.

But, then the sleeping giant awoke.

And doing the shaking and breaking up of Glenn's defense was Ford quarterback Daymon Dowdell, who delivered a 34-yard punch to Tyrone Knott for the first of three Ford scores. Ford also made the point-after, making it a 21-7 ball game.

In the third quarter, Ford came right out and Dowdell put together a sustained drive that was capped with his 18-yard touchdown - right up the middle. The kick was good, and now the hosts had closed to within seven.

Then, in the first minute of

...Walled Lake Western is waiting

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The best high school football team in the Western Lakes Conference this year was Walled Lake Western.

Western posted a perfect 5-0 record in the Western Division and also won the conference championship.

And, last week, Western showed then the state's top-ranked team, Detroit Catholic Central, why they, and not DCC, should have the No. 1 state ranking.

Western, behind some outstanding defense and the exceptional play of John Merandi and Lorenzo Parker, defeated the Doughboys, 23-7, in a district final that ended DCC's season and moved Western one victory closer to their second state title.

Catholic Central has won the last week versions of the Division 1 title and were focusing upon an unprecedented third under the expanded Michigan High School Athletic Association's format.

On Saturday, at 1 p.m. John Glenn will mobilize its troops and move toward the Western front to see if its Rockets have the power to stop the Western blitz.

Although many had anticipated that the two Western Lakes Conference power were going to meet for the conference championship, the meeting did not materialize because Plymouth-Salem upset the Rockets, who dropped to third place in their division.

The meeting between the two - Glenn and Western - definitely will take place at Western on Saturday.

And, both teams, coming off of what are considered their biggest victories of the current season, are ready, if the criteria of their last game means anything.

Both teams played extremely well against undefeated opponents.

In the familiar role of "they know who we are, and we know who they are," Western and Glenn coaches offered little more than cliches to describe the upcoming battle.

The game will be decided on the playing field.

Not in the newspaper.

Belleville is team to beat at district

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Undefeated in the Mega Conference Red Division, and the reigning champ, Belleville will be the team to beat at the 1999 Class A girls' basketball playoffs hosted by Romulus High.

"There's Belleville and then the rest of the field," said Jesse Meriweather, Romulus High athletic director. "They have an exceptional team this year."

The shooting will begin Monday night as girls' basketball teams locally, regionally and across the state head into their post-season playoffs.

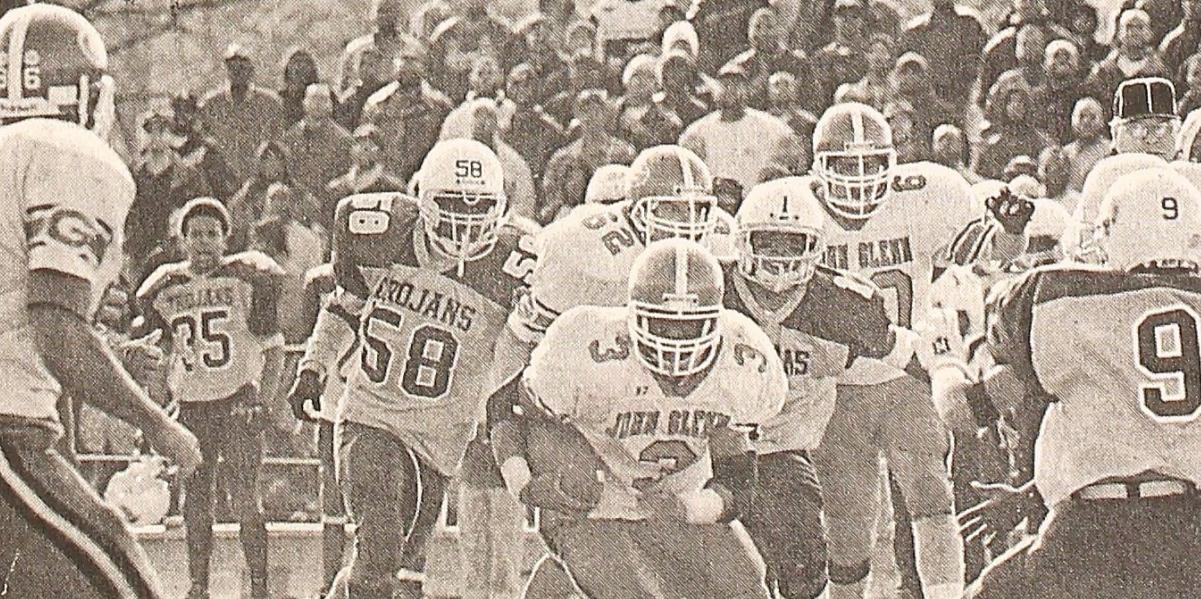

phase of the season.

In first-round action at Romulus, Romulus will host John Glenn in a game that will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Monday. The winner will advance to play Garden City at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

In the other bracket, Wayne Memorial drew a bye and will await the outcome of the Belleville-Franklin game to see who their semi-round opponent will be on Wednesday.

Belleville plays Franklin in the second game at 8 p.m. on Monday.

The championship at Romulus will be decided at 7 p.m. on Friday (Nov. 19).

Surrounded by Henry Ford defenders, Glenn senior running back Eric Jones (3) seeks a hole in Detroit defense. Jones came out with a pair of touchdowns and 182 yards on 36 rushes. Photo by Brown's Special Events Services.

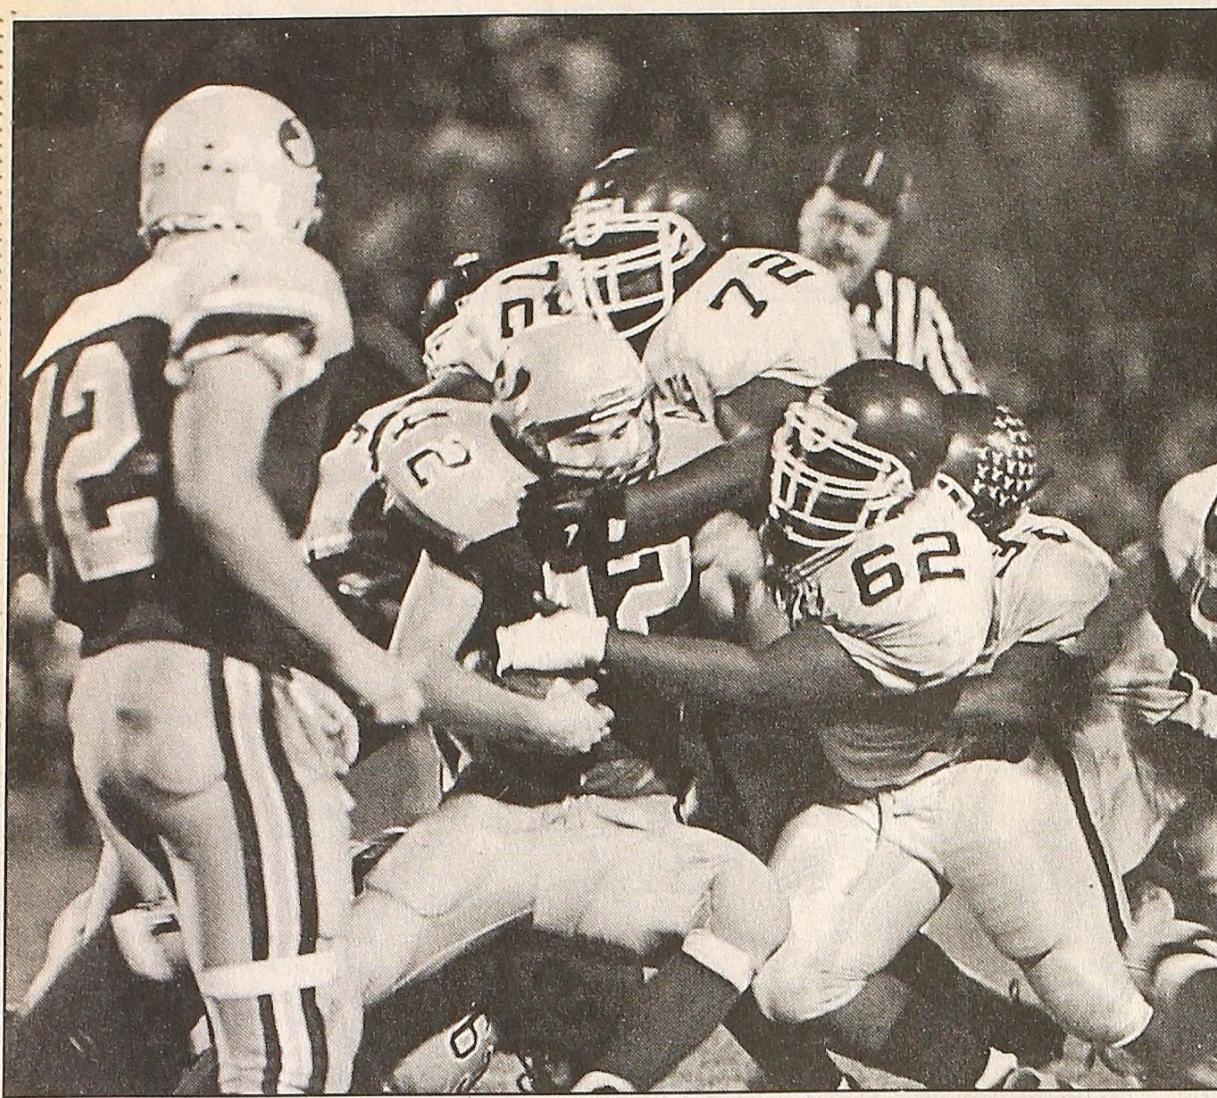

Don't go away fans, the best is yet to come.

Though there is only one local team - Westland John Glenn - alive in the Michigan High School Athletic Association's playoffs, it is a team that has been there and has done it and can surprise.

Just ask previously undefeated Detroit Henry Ford.

And on Saturday at 1 p.m. the Rockets renew their rivalry with old conference foe, Walled Lake Western. The two will play for the Division 1, Region 2 championship.

All-Area football coming up

After giving up 32 first-half points, 22 of those unanswered points in the second quarter alone, Romulus' defense did a complete about-face and shut down Monroe Jefferson in the second half and came within three points of pulling out the victory. Coach Mark Woodson's Eagles fell, however, to Jefferson, 36-34, and were eliminated from the playoffs. Above, Romulus' Bruce Thompson (62) stops Jefferson's Brian Angel at the line of scrimmage with teammate Charles Mosby (72) also getting an assist. That's Wendell Woods (33) wanting in on the action. Romulus brought the curtains down on a 8-3 season and the Eagles for the second consecutive year have emerged with a divisional title in the Mega Conference.

Rockets

the fourth quarter Ford stole the lead thanks to Justin Jacks pick of a Cechiewicz pass that the Ford defensive halfback returned for 44 yards. The PAT tied the score at 21.

A safety on the ensuing Glenn series lifted Ford to the lead 23-21, and for the first time the Glenn fans saw clouds on an atypical sunny fall afternoon.

And when Cechiewicz

failed to move his team and Catarino was called in to punt with 4:38 left, the handwriting appeared to be written in the sky.

Catarino's punt was misplayed by Ford's receiver, who fumbled on his own 48 which set the wheels in reverse for Henry Ford as Glenn's Dan Smitherman recovered.

Cechiewicz then guided the Rockets on their last drive that ended with Jones' second TD.

Ford had four opportunities to redeem itself. Dowdell's first pass was tipped by Harris; the second play ended with a Harris sack and the third, also a pass, fell short of its target.

On the fourth and final play, Dowdell couldn't find a receiver.

Smitherman had an outstanding game as he counted one interception, knocked down three passes and also recovered a fumble. Harris, a defensive end, and Chad Sansom, also were awesome, but the day also belonged to Jones, whose number was called 36 times and he rushed for 182 yards and scored two of the four Glenn touchdowns.

Eagles

the Eagles were now within two of tying and three of winning.

Three plays and a Jefferson punt later, Romulus had the ball and drove to the Monroe 27 where a successful Jefferson blitz nailed Moomaw for a loss. Then, Moomaw was called for holding and that penalty moved the Eagles out of field goal range.

Plymouth-Canton schools' radio station, WSDP 88.1 FM, and Henry Ford Community

Moomaw's pass on a fourth down failed, and Jefferson had possession of the ball and the victory.

In a career best performance, Jordan finished with 234 rushing yards, three touchdowns - one on a pass reception. Teammate Charles Searcy, a wide receiver, made a spectacular catch that kept one of the Eagles' drives alive.

Moomaw completed seven of 13 passes for 104 yards and one touchdown. However, the young quarterback only completed one of those seven in the first half.

How did Romulus' coaching staff manage to turn the team around in the second half. They switched a pair of junior tackles - Brian Harper and Myron Mosby - also moved Mosby's brother, Charles, into the pits on defense.

Romulus' defense, after that horrendous first half, held Jefferson to 35 yard rushing and eight passing the final two quarters and John Wester, along with Ray Graves, also came up with a couple of big sacks that hurt Jefferson.

Young Belleville skater dreams of a NHL career

By CAROL MARSHALL
MCN Staff Writer

Not too long ago, someone told me no one is more fun to hang out with than a ten-year-old boy. Certainly this is because they've got a charming mix of confidence and uncertainty, kindness and sassiness, grace and gawkiness. But most of all, they're still young enough to believe in the loftiest dreams.

Like many ten-year-old boys, Jerry Kuziak II already has dreams about playing professional hockey. He began playing roller blade hockey when he was four years old, and graduated to playing on the ice at age 7. What Jerry realizes, and other young kids don't know is that he only has a few years left to catch the eye of scouts.

His mother, Pam Kuziak said, "Scouts for the professional teams pick these boys when they're 16 years old, and if you're not a AAA team, they don't see you."

Jerry had been happy playing on a house team in Ann Arbor before trying out for a travel team last year. But his mother said other players weren't too happy to see him skate out on the ice. That's because he scored 32 goals last season. "Other players were swearing at him," she said.

So the next logical step was to try out for more competitive teams. Two years of try-outs paid off when Jerry landed himself a right wing position on a district travel A team in Garden City.

Jerry won't boast about his athletic abilities, saying his coach, Leonard Samborski, chose him as much for his attitude as his skills. "He only picked people who play well, and are nice and don't have a bad attitude," Jerry says. "I don't judge myself, but I guess I'm pretty good."

Though he hasn't even entered his teen years, Jerry's sure he found a career on the ice. His dream is "To get on the NHL and to be an 'A' or 'B' student."

Pam insists he will get the grades or she and his coach will bench him.

In Jerry Kuziak's field of dreams is a place where he will find a pathway on the ice that will lead him to the NHL. Above, the 10-year old practices his shots in anticipation of the upcoming season. Photo by Carol Marshall ing games, you have to go to clinics in the summertime to keep your skills up," she explains. Jerry attended four one-week camps last summer. And they're not cheap. Those four weeks cost about $2,000 total.

Coaches draft 4 from Glenn for all-conference

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Western Lakes Athletic Association coaches went into an all-night huddle last week and when they broke for the evening they had in their hands their lineups for the 1999 mythical all-conference offensive and defensive teams.

To no one's surprise, undefeated Walled Lake Western, which swept through the 1999 conference season with a perfect record, dominated this year's selections.

But, Westland John Glenn, which finished third to Farmington and Livonia Stevenson in the Lakes Division, also made its presence felt. The Rockets placed four of their outstanding players on the First Team.

The four Rockets named in the coaches' lineups included Eric Jones, Nick Samples, and Jeremy Catarino on offense, and senior linebacker Jake Tharp on defense.

Catarino was named as a specialist for his superb punting and kicking point-afters which helped coach Chuck Gordon's club post an 9-2 record going into Saturday's 1 p.m. regional playoff game with Walled Lake Western.

Jones has been the heart of the Glenn offense. He had rushed for more than 1,000 yards and has eclipsed former Glenn great, Reggie Spearman's record.

Jones, a senior, is one of three running backs named to the offensive backfield. The others include: Kevin Woods (Farmington Harrison) and Cody Cargill (Walled Lake Western).

Farmington's Grant Webber, a 5-9, 180-pound senior to led his team to the Lakes Division title, was named as the quarterback.

The wide receivers include Ian Riley (Plymouth-Canton) and Brian Lafer (North Farmington).

Coaches picked as members of the line on offense include: Larry Bigger (center, Walled Lake Western), Jason Tueni (interior lineman, Walled Lake Western), Nick Samples (interior lineman, John Glenn), Chris Lebeis (interior lineman, Northville), Josh Boyd (interior lineman, Farmington), and Brian Nelson (tight end, Farmington Harrison).

The all-conference team on defense as picked by the conference coaches: Kyle Domagalski (down lineman, Farmington), Kent Taylor (down lineman, Farmington Harrison), Dominic Freda

Belleville runner is 10th in Alma run

Belleville's Rebekah Schultz helped Albion College recently finish third overall at the Alma College Cross Country Invitational.

A junior, Schultz covered the 5,000-meter Alma Course in 20:49, a performance that enabled her to finish in 10th-place.

The meet helped Albion prepare for the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championships which were staged earlier last week.

Schultz was a prep blue chip distance runner before going on to make the varsity squad at Albion.

Second BB-gun shooting suspect sought

A second arrest is expected in the Halloween night assault and BB-gun shooting of a 15-year-old Westland boy.

Police arrested the 16-year-old Canton boy who allegedly shot the Westland boy in the foot several times and once in the arm on the porch of the suspect's home on the 8600 block of Kingsley in Canton because the victim wouldn't surrender a bag of candy.

The shots punctured the victim's arm and shoes, missing his toes, which he curled to avoid the pellets.

Canton police are looking for a second suspect, a black man from Plymouth, who allegedly slugged the victim and urinated on him when he refused to give up the candy.

The shooting suspect denied the shooting, saying he was inside of his house with his girlfriend when the incident allegedly occurred outside at 10:15 p.m.

Police were unable to question the other suspect. However, they have located his home in Plymouth and expect to arrest him.

After the BB-gun shooting, the second suspect allegedly said, "I should get my .38. No, I have something better." Then he reached into his pants, pulled out his male plumbing, and allegedly urinated on the victim, according to police.

program. We have a mini-war over the construction of yet another drugstore, but the city fire station is all but forgotten.

Commercial and residential construction is increasing in this era of solid economic times. Our firefighters and paramedics need and require a new, 21st century facility to carry Wayne into the year 2000 and beyond. Our homeowner, renter and commercial insurance rates are based on the quality of fire and medical services available. Ford, Unistrut and over 500 commercial and industrial businesses rely in the Wayne Fire Dept. Our children, seniors and neighbors deserve the best; i.e., a NEW Wayne Fire Station!

How about it, citizens and council, let's get it done for Wayne!!!

Sincerely,
John Nicholson
Wayne

As mayor, McEachern would serve Wayne's best interests

To the Editor:
I am writing this letter to endorse Donna McEachern for mayor of the City of Wayne. Donna has served on the city council for many years as councilperson, and, at the present, as mayor pro-tem of the city.

During this time, she has shown her ability to be level-headed, and patient, in dealing with the various factions that seem to be operating in our city. She has always followed the path of "What is in the best interest for the citizens of Wayne", and had not feared to follow this path in the face of adversity. She loves our city dearly.

I have known Donna for a long time, both in the Chamber of Commerce, and as council person, and I believe that she will make a strong and fair mayor of our city.

Sincerely,
Shirley Castaldine
Wayne

Council's CVS decision best for majority

To the Editor:

It takes strength and integrity to choose what's best for our city and our communities rather than what's easy and popular for the moment. We highly commend the Wayne City Council members who supported the Arbor/CVS project even when it seemed they were jeopardizing their own political careers.

Our home is directly across the street from the Arbor/CVS project and we are the family most affected by it, yet we strongly support the project.

All of the families adjacent to the project, and the council, know the real motives of the people who oppose the project. Our community, and the council, also knows that if Arbor/CVS is turned away, some very undesirable businesses could take over the site. If everyone in town knew all the facts like we do, they would know that the council has absolutely made the right decision for our community.

It takes people with vision to see to the future of Wayne.

Thank goodness the majority of the city council members are far-sighted enough to make decisions that are good for the many, and not just good for the ones who screech the loudest at every council meeting.
